The American Institute for Marxist Studies (AIMS) is an educational, research and bibliographical institute. Its purposes are to encourage Marxist and radical scholarship in the United States and to help bring Marxist thought into the forum of reasonable debate to produce a meaningful dialogue among Marxist and non-Marxist scholars and writers. Its policy is to avoid sectarian and dogmatic thinking. It engages in no political activity and takes no stand on political questions.

To these ends it invites the support and participation of all scholars and public-spirited individuals.

INTRODUCTION

The amount of material available on higher education and the student rebellion in the United States staggers the imagination. Especially since 1965, in the Left and in general, literally thousands of books, pamphlets and articles have appeared.

Of necessity therefore, this bibliography is limited to the United States and is selective. But it is not limited to Left commentary, nor even to only favorable and sympathetic accounts of student rebellions, or progressive and radical critiques of higher education. The criterion was that the material be coherent, relevant, provocative and influential. The reader will find listings for material from the "Liberal Establishment" defending the present structure of higher education and attacking the student rebels. Most prominent among these ruling class apologists are Clark Kerr, Sidney Hook, Irving Kristol, David Riesman, Christopher Jencks, Nathan Glazer, Seymour Martin Lipset and Lewis Feuer. Of course, greatest emphasis was given to the Left, and especially to the critiques of the rebels themselves. Special attention was given to black students and the crisis in Negro higher education.

A problem in compiling a bibliography such as this is that many very important radical articles have appeared in "underground" newspapers of limited circulation and scattered throughout the country. Therefore, I have listed especially important newspapers and magazines at the end of the bibliography. I also call attention to the "Underground Press Directory" compiled in 1968, which gives a complete listing of these periodicals. To obtain this directory send $1.00 to: COUNTERPOINT, Box 396, Stevens Point, Wisconsin 54481. Also at the end of this bibliography is a listing of some important national student and educational organizations, especially those whose pamphlets or journals are cited.

I call attention, as well, to the listing at the end of the bibliography of excellent documentary films which are available, on the student rebellions.

INTRODUCTION

In addition, I wish to mention a new, excellent study, not yet published, which, when it appears, will undoubtedly be the definitive work on the Berkeley Free Speech Movement of 1964. It is entitled Conflict on the Campus: The Berkeley Free Speech Controversy, written by Max Heirich. It will be published soon by Columbia University Press.

Finally, I wish to thank my little son Joshua, for his creative efforts in managing on numerous occasions to rearrange and "de-alphabetize" the listings for this bibliography.
